

Damaris Jarboux Energy-Body Healing ^(sm)

Damaris created The Center Place ^(sm) in 1986, as a container for her innovative clinical work and teaching. Since then she has helped people of all ages, illness and imbalance - through Chi Kung treatment and teaching personal practice.

She has developed a unique approach to Energy Medicine. Her 'Energy-Body Healing' ^(sm) has evolved from its roots in Healing Touch to a whole array of practices to assess and treat every aspect of the energy-body, including the aura field, cauldrons, meridians, sets of points, organs, 5 Phases, foreign energies, Qigong Soul Retrieval, group souls, life work, families & businesses.

Using the hands to channel life-energy, this work stimulates the natural healing process - thus it helps reach through the physical and emotional level to the Soul and Spirit level, where guidance and support are always available.

The Center Place Damaris Jarboux

2009-10

"The energetic perspective helps us to understand events, health and behavior, and thus create positive action and service".

Chi Kung (Qigong) is the ancient Taoist art of developing and cultivating your energy, through exercises, personal practices, meditation and clinical treatment.

The Center Place program provides opportunities for experience, education and certification training in the Art and Science of Qigong.

Chi Kung Healing with Damaris

'The Program' is an evolving and unique 4-year (and Post-Graduate) series of classes and retreats that can be tailored to meet each student's needs. This work is a combination of logic, intuition and training, and each year builds a progressive set of Chi Kung practices. Personal development is the result. Some healers take this work into professional practice, while others become practitioners for their family and friends. Info for each year is available with dates and curriculum - by flyer or web.

All of 'The Program' (which can be completed in 2 years) is taught by Damaris, except the 1st year, where Annie Roberts is the primary teacher, and Damaris assists her.
